

OBITUARIES IN THE SIERRA STAR

We do both free and paid. The principal differences are:

- For the free, we write the obituary in journalistic language (no wording such as beloved father, gone to be with his Lord, etc.) based on the information supplied by the submitter. We will also publish photos which will be cropped to a mug shot. We cannot guarantee a publication date.
- The paid obituaries are done by the advertising department. The submitter can word it any way he wants to including pets etc., and there is a guaranteed publication date. The cost is based on how much space is used. Most obituaries with photos run in the $175 range.

We cannot accept computer print-out pictures. Pictures submitted by e-mail must be separate jpgs from text. They need to be at least 300kb.

We sometimes have trouble opening text attachments, so it is easier for us if you send the information as an email.

We must have confirmation of the death from whatever entity is handling arrangements. A phone call is fine for this.
